Certification Manager (Maternity Leave Coverage)

Marine Harvest Canada is recruiting for the challenging position of Certification Manager to cover for a Maternity leave.

Reporting to the Director of Environmental Performance and Certification, the Certification Manager will champion the implementation of production and environmental certification standards (ASC, BAP among others) within MHC operations. Responsibilities will include:

Responsibilities:

- Pre-certification project planning.
- Internal readiness assessment/audit.
- Supporting the development/modification and implementation of procedures/processes to meet certification standards where required.
- Coordinating staff training, liaising with 3rd-party external certification auditors/organizations to coordinate audit schedules.
- Representing the certification program to our customers as a support to our Sales staff.
- Reviewing technical documents and providing feedback on certification standards.
- Outreach to external stakeholders, including community groups, First Nation partners, and ENGOs.

Qualifications:

- Minimum 5 years experience in quality assurance program development and/or 3rd party certification and audit processes (including knowledge of GAA BAP and ASC Standards).
- Project management experience and well-developed organizational skills.
- Sound knowledge of all facets of salmon aquaculture (farming through processing).
- A University degree in a related field (biology or environmental studies) is preferred.
- Food processing quality assurance experience and training (i.e. HACCP Training and/or BRC qualifications) is a definite asset.
- Very strong communication skills (written and verbal).

Closing Date: December 28, 2018
